

2018 Buenos Aires Youth Olympic Games Nomination Policy

A. INTRODUCTION

Triathlon is one of 32 sports at the Youth Olympic Games (YOG) in Buenos Aires (Argentina) from October 6-18, 2018 with participants ranging in age between 16-17 years old. The YOG triathlon competition will consist of an individual sprint on day one and a mixed team relay on day two.

This document outlines the qualification and nomination process of Triathlon Canada for determining those athletes who will be nominated to the Canadian Olympic Committee (COC) for selection to represent Canada at the 2018 YOG as members of the Canadian YOG team.

The objective of this nomination process to identify and nominate athletes capable of a podium finish in the individual at the 2018 YOG. Nomination by Triathlon Canada does NOT guarantee selection. Selection is subject to COC approval.

Triathlon Canada's nomination process may include the nomination of alternates for the Team.

Canadian YOG qualification spots are earned by Canadian athletes at the Americas YOG Qualifying event in Salinas ECU on June 30, 2018.

This document outlines the eligibility, qualifying and selection criteria to;

1. the YOG qualifying event in Salinas, Ecuador; and
2. the YOG in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

The Triathlon Canada High Performance program is charged with fostering and developing podium performances at the Olympic Games.

B. TEAM STRUCTURE

Team Canada is eligible to qualify up to one (1) male and up to one (1) female, with one (1) alternate named per gender. The selection process will include the selection of Alternates for the Team. The team will be led by a coach appointed by Triathlon Canada.

C. ELIGIBILITY

For athletes to be considered for selection to the Canadian Youth Olympic Games Team, they must meet the following eligibility criteria:

1. Athletes must be born between 1 January 2001 and 31 December 2002;
2. Eligible athletes must have a Triathlon Canada International Competition Card as proof of their eligibility to compete for Canada at ITU events. This includes an ITU compliant pre-participation medical exam (PPE);
3. Eligible athletes must meet all applicable citizenship requirements of the Canadian Olympic Committee and the International Triathlon Union at the time of selection and must maintain these requirements until the completion of the Games;
4. Athletes must have a valid Canadian passport that does not expire on or before April 18, 2019;
