

Triathlon Canada Registration Policy

Team Management Fees: All team management fees are non-refundable. Athletes, under no circumstances, will be able to defer their team management fee to a subsequent TRI World Championship event, nor are they able to transfer this fee to another athlete.

Race Fees: It is important to note Triathlon Canada is not responsible for setting race fees. This is done by TRI and Local Organizing Committees (LOC). Race fees can be refunded by formal written request to Triathlon Canada up until the deadline where funds are transferred to the Local Organizing Committee (LOC). The deadline for the transfer of funds to the LOC is specific to each TRI World Championship Event. Triathlon Canada will identify the deadline for refunds at the same time athletes are notified of the race fee payment. All information will be posted on the Triathlon Canada web site. If a written request is received prior to this deadline, Triathlon Canada will issue a refund less the transaction and administration fee to process the refund. If written request is sent after this deadline, all race fee payments will be non-refundable.

Athletes, under no circumstances, will be able to defer their race fee payment to a subsequent year.
